What if there was a better way to build Target Date Solutions?

- Our target date strategy leverages T. Rowe Price's decades of experience as a multi-asset manager and our access to impactful Canadian plan member data.
- Our glide path design offers plan sponsors and members a "through" retirement glide path that emphasizes growth and represents a holistic approach to risk.
- A "best of both worlds" approach seeks to combine the cost benefits of passive investing and the diversification and return potential of active management.

Contact T. Rowe Price for more information about our investment approach and how we strive to deliver positive outcomes for investors.
